

Outwest Drywall Supply

Multi-Location Retail | Construction Industry

The Client

Outwest Drywall Supply is a multi-location business, serving Colorado and Utah residents and business owners. From drywall to metal framing, Outwest provides quality materials at a competitive price.

The Challenge

For Outwest Supply, implementing a security system was never top of mind. Caden, Store Manager for their Eagle, Colorado location, said: "It wasn't until one of our top competitors got broken into that we started to consider it seriously." That break-in cost their competitor over $10,000 in stolen equipment and inventory. "We knew we needed something that would cover all areas of our property and a way for the store managers to be alerted to intrusion activity - whether they were at home or on-site." In addition to a solution that would meet their security demands, they needed one that would also meet their budget.

The Solution

After considering options from several providers, they chose Alibi Security due to their cost-effective video security camera solution. They had 11 IllumiNite turret cameras and 19 Starlight dome cameras installed in every vital area of their property, including all entry points, warehouse, and back lot where their equipment is kept.

The Outcome

Their most profitable location is now fully protected with 24/7 video surveillance. If a trespasser tries to steal their equipment, their Alibi Security cameras provide management with high definition color images of intrusion activity - even if it occurs in the middle of the night. With one location complete, they've made plans to add camera systems to their other locations - ensuring every property and all store assets may remain secure for the future.
